Are you, or have you been, at the breaking point? Is your life so broken that it seems impossible to continue? There is something to look forward to even though the road of your life seems difficult and even impassable.

You can have hope in this perplexing world. A good life is possible. You simply need answers to your difficult questions. There are solutions that will set you free from all the worries that surround you.

However, you have to be willing to make changes in your life. One of the definitions of insanity is to continue to do the same thing and expect a different outcome. To have different, you have to do differently. If things aren’t working well for you now, then there may be a need to change your thinking and the way you look at life. The Apostle Paul was inspired to write, “…be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God” (Rom. 12:2).

Answers are available. All you need to do is ask God for help. Seek His answers to your problems. Keep importuning God for what you need. “…Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened” (Luke 11:9-10).

God has the answers to all your problems. He is willing to help if you let Him. A humble and willing heart and mind are necessary to receive aid from the Lord. Don’t expect assistance if you go to God as a “spoiled brat.” You must approach the throne of God as a humble, obedient child seeking to do whatever He asks of you. If you are eager to obey your Father and change your ways, you will receive everything that is good for you, if you ask in believing faith.

So often we ask for things that are not good for us or the timing is wrong for what we are asking. We must trust God to answer our prayers in a time and in a way that is best for us and is in accordance with His plan and will.

We must be willing to pay attention to God and do what He says. We can’t expect God to help if we are unwilling to listen and do what He instructs. It is the obedience to our Lord that will get us out of our dilemmas. “…It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God” (Matt. 4:4).

To help with your quest, we are offering an article Have You Been Fighting With God? It may assist you in finding your way back to God and help improve your relationship with Him?